OUR STORY

Acrostar Films is an award winning Chicago based film company and was born through the passion of indie author S.J. Hermann wanting to adapt his books to screen. This desire led to self teaching in film for two years until shooting scenes for crowdfunding to adapt the supernatural trilogy, MORIUM. Acrostar Films is primarily devoted to horror, but is open to most genres.

Late 2022 Acrostar Films focused on feature films, began winning awards at film festivals and has distribution on streaming platforms such as Amazon Prime Video, Tubi and many others.

Disremembered tells the story of a teenager who lived through a nightmare then grows up to be a woman filled with vengeance. This is the darkest film yet from Acrostar Films. Viewer discretion advised.

DIRECTOR, Steve Hermann

Steve Hermann, also known as indie author S.J. Hermann, began adapting his books to film with the short story In The Dark, available on YouTube. After several other short films and two web series (Morium and Blood Sisters), Hermann made a 40-minute slasher film Trepidity. In addition to adapting his books to film, he often has story ideas which then become feature films such as 1950s style sci-fi creature feature It Came from Somewhere and the sequel, They Came Back from Somewhere. His cast members have become like family, and their ideas have led to films such as Attack of the Corn Zombies. In addition to directing, Steve handles casting, some cinematography, and editing.

Disremembered is the darkest film yet from Acrostar Films, based on a short story. Steve believes that this film will horrify you and make you wonder just what people are capable of.
